“DISCOVER YOUR COMPASS” TOUR COMES TO LAS VEGAS NOV. 5
FEATURING COMPASS FOUNDER, CEO KIM FULCHER

Las Vegas will host Kimberly Fulcher, founder and CEO of My Life Compass, as part of the company’s “Discover Your Compass” national tour to promote its innovative coaching services and the Compass business opportunity. Ms. Fulcher and her executive team will be featured at a free informational event on Thursday, Nov. 5, 7 p.m. at the Hampton Inn Tropicana in Las Vegas, according to local coordinator Betty Mahalik.

The Las Vegas stop is a first for the city, and is among a number of events being sponsored in major cities across the country, including New York, Philadelphia, Orlando, Chicago, Newark and Portland.

During the evening seminar Ms. Fulcher, who founded the company in 2007 and launched it publicly in January of 2008, will profile a brief history of the company’s growth, discuss major market trends driving the growth of professional coaching, and present information about the company’s coaching services as well as the business opportunity for independent Compass representatives and coaches.

The event is free and open to the public, but reservations are requested. To reserve your seats visit the Compass website at www.mylifecompass.com.

About the Company:

Compass is the leading SaaS provider of on-demand, affordable e-coaching solutions. Compass combines digital content, based on popular self-help books, with live group coaching services and a web-based interactive e-learning platform to improve the personal and professional performance of each user. Users access e-coaching solutions through the company’s www.mylifecompass.com website or through private portals that offer solutions designed to foster employee engagement for the enterprise market. Compass clients include The Home Depot, EMC, and Best Buy. Founded in 2008, the company is headquartered in San Jose, California.
